

I really hope that the XM radio can continue the traffic and weather info for XM Satellite users. I myself use the service frequently being a truck driver thru various parts of the country, and it nice to know that I can have instant access to traffic or weather without trying to find a local station, only to find out they don't have it or not enough info!!